Iconic Fennville hotel begins makeover, will house restaurant, speakeasy, event center

By Gari Voss

The hotel in Fennville, MI that has stood next to the railroad tracks for almost a century is in the midst of having a facelift. The DuPree family from Holland, MI purchased the grand structure four years ago, did extensive planning, and have begun renovations. It is anticipated that what was formally known as the Steven's Hotel, Bar & Grill will open in the summer of 2026 as the Wine Trail Inn.

During the official groundbreaking on Tuesday, September 30, 2025, Hopwood DuPree shared that many in attendance were stakeholders in the project. He stressed that the stakeholders have been dedicated to getting the project from the drawing board to reality.

"The hotel has been an iconic part of Fennville for so many decades," explained Hopwood. "I remember coming here with my family when I was a little kid, and it was a special place. The main thing I remember about coming was the community and how welcoming everybody was. Everyone came together as friends, and you felt that you were really a part of something. That is exactly what we want to bring back to the Stakeholders involved in the renovation of the Steven's Inn, Bar & Grill in Fennville, MI joined the DuPree family to raise their shovels for the official groundbreaking on Tues., Sept. 30, 2025. When restoration is complete by the summer of 2026, the hotel will become the Wine Trail Inn and house a basement Speak Easy and event center, main floor dining area, bar and dance floor, and upstairs hotel rooms and suite. project. It is already kicking off in that way with the city, Rockford [Construction], and the MEDC [Michigan Economic Development Corporation] working together, and the locals who come when they see us working here."

The community has embraced the DuPree family and are looking forward to again being able to sit down to a quiet dinner or spend time with friends having drinks.

"The original hotel had 22 rooms and two bathrooms. We are looking to keep the historic elements while bringing it up to speed with modern amenities," explained Hopwood. "So, we are combining the 22 rooms down to 11, and each will have a private bathroom. We will be adding a 3,000 sq. ft. addition on the back to house an elevator, emergency stairs, bathrooms and housekeeping. The modern section will be what powers the historic section of the hotel. This was a challenge for the project."

With the addition, the hotel will be about 15,000 sq. ft. which is about 4,000 sq. ft. per floor. "What a lot of people don't know," continued Hopwood. "is that in the lower level, there was an historic bowling alley. We were amazed to find that, but a lot of locals shared that they remember rolling balls down the alleys there. We could not save the bowling alley because it was built on dirt and the boards have rotted, but we are trying to save the historic elements and bring them back in a repurposed way."

Katie Beemer, Fennville's administrator, welcomed the endeavors of the DuPree family. "Working with the DuPree family over the last three years has been such a joy in renovating this historic hotel. Over the last three years, there have been many stories about the hotel, and what it has meant to our community."

Rockford Construction representatives shared the honor of being involved with the hotel renovation. Doing adaptive reuse projects such as this, that turns a building into something special while holding the history, is definitely rewarding. The passion and excitement that went on in the building is special, and it truly is a time to reflect on, "If only these walls could talk..."

Real estate development is not an easy project to envision. The $4.5 million project hopes to bring the shine back to the historic structure, but as upgrades are made, the historic value does not want to be lost. The million-dollar grant from the Michigan Economic Development Corporation (MEDC) truly assisted in bringing the project to fruition. In addition, the $7,500 awarded by the City of Fennville Downtown Development Authority (DDA) will assist with façade improvements.

The plans include a basement Speak Easy, a main floor restaurant and bar, and 11 boutique rooms upstairs. The goal is to combine modern comfort with the hotel's history. Overall, the "new" hotel is destined to bring more tourists and visitors to town while offering a gathering place for

SHARK founder says cockfighting ring shared with police several weeks earlier

In a shocking discovery, 36 fighting birds -- roosters, were found dead in a Hopkins Twp. property on Oct. 3.

Local law enforcement received tips about a cockfighting and betting ring from an animal rights organization called SHARK (Showing Animals Respect and Kindness), but were slow to act, according to SHARK.

Barron's PCC hearing adjourned until Oct. 30

By Elizabeth Ferszt
Contributing Writer

Mya Nicole Barron, the 15-year-old former AHS student who is facing weapons charges after allegedly threatening to attack Allegan High School in September, was in 57th District Court today for a PCC.

Judge Christopher Burnett conducted the hearing which determined whether the charges have probable cause and were likely caused by the accused defendant.

However, Barron's attorney, Public Defender Chad Catalano, requested an Adjournment.

Prosecutor Michael Villar's office did not object.

Judge Burnett ordered the PCC adjourned until October 30 at 1 pm, with a Preliminary Exam also scheduled for November 4 at 9 am. According to the court clerk's office, the defendant will be there in person for the PE.

Barron was given a cash surety bond of $75,000, which has not been posted, also according to the clerk's office. However, it remains unclear if she is in custody in the Allegan County Jail; a quick search of their inmate database comes up with 'no records.'

Charges against Barron include filing a false report, threat of terrorism, stealing a firearm, felony firearm, and safe-breaking. The charges stem from disturbing online conversations and postings made by Barron that explicitly outlined a plan to attack her former high school with her dad's van, 'a fk ton of fireworks', and gasoline; and to shoot up the school with her mom's Glock handgun (that she stole).

The plot was foiled on Sept. 19 by a coordinated effort between the Detroit field office of the FBI, and local Allegan Police.

Allegan celebrates the arrival of fall

By Gari Voss

The streets of Allegan were decked out with fall décor while businesses and entertainment venues offered a touch of the macabre. Friday night was geared to adults who enjoy terrorizing themselves, and The Rocky Horror Picture Show did just that. Saturday's summer-like weather brought the families and more faint of heart to the businesses and parks. The Riverfront boasted a huge pumpkin and a skeleton band while a short walk down the Boardwalk revealed a field of pumpkins thanks to Allen's Farm Market. Many took the opportunity to hop on the hay wagon, pull up a bale, and enjoy a ride around town.

No matter where one went, there were opportunities to do arts and crafts, whether at Arts and Eats, Pretty Pink Tingz, Allegan District Library, the shops along Locust Street, or the picture frames in the Haunted Alley. As the Saturday progressed, the sounds of Oktoberfest could be heard. The Allegan Brass Collective shared their festive music on Tantrick's patio while staff encouraged those in attendance to try their hand, or arm, at stein lifting.

Throughout the day, people stopped at the Griswold Auditorium for monster movies or the Regent Theater to watch Halloween movies. A taste of the Ghostbusters and Echo-1 were found at Tardy's Underground. As the day came to a close, many gathered at Trowbridge Plaza to join a Ghost Tour. Docents escorted groups around Allegan and stopped at key locations that held historical significance for Allegan and stories of ghostly figures. Marilla Griswold held the focus on a couple stops, but many wondered about the little girl who appears in the upper window of the Old Jail Museum and the theater employee that still watches over the Regent Theater. Kudos go to Deb Adams and Erin Dye for their investigations into the stories behind ghost sightings. For those still seeking a bit of the holiday spirit, the Regent Theater overed a 9:30pm showing of Shocktober! – An American Werewolf in London. The Downtown Allegan group is already considering ideas for Hoot n Howl 2026, but in the meanwhile, residents and visitors are invited to keep their eyes open to yard scenes as calls are already coming regarding who has the best Halloween Decorations in town. Plus, the Eagles will host a Trunk or Treat before the downtown Trick or Treat arrives on October 31st.

At right: Many have heard that Marilla Griswold still resides at the Griswold Auditorium, and that ghosts of Chicago mobsters inhabit Robinson Manor, but have they glimpsed the young girl who looks out the window in the cupola at the Old Jail Museum or Louie who watches over the Regent Theater? The Ghost Tour through Allegan on Oct.4, 2025, revealed a few more secrets of the city.

Commissioners to vote on 6.6 percent budget increase

At its semiannual nighttime meeting this Thursday, the Board of Commissioners will vote on adopting the county's $51.7 million general fund budget. The budget calls for a 6.6 percent increase over the $48.4 million budgeted for this year. The board is also set to receive a recommendation on adding six new positions to the county's payroll. Overall, the personnel budget plans for a 9.5 percent increase due to wage increases and staff additions approved prior to the six positions under study for recommendation. The county website has detailed information on the budget proposal.

Four people hospitalized after Valley Twp crash

Four people were taken to the hospital after the vehicle they were in crashed into a tree Thursday night in Valley Township, according to the Allegan County Sheriff's Office (ACSO). It happened on 44th Street north of 116th Avenue just before 9 p.m., deputies said. A dark-colored Subaru, which was carrying a total of five people at the time, was going northbound on 44th Street when it lost control and crashed into a tree, according to ACSO. The five passengers were between the ages of 18 and 21. Investigators said two of the four people taken to the hospital are in serious condition, whereas the fifth person was released from the scene without any serious injuries. The sheriff's office believes that speed was a factor in the crash and will not be releasing the names of those involved while the investigation continues.

FPS student diagnosed with tuberculosis

An individual at Fennville Public Schools has been diagnosed with active tuberculosis. The district has asked parents and students to monitor for signs of tuberculosis. If symptoms are identified, parents and students should contact their doctor, a press release from FPS said. "We understand this news may raise concerns, but please know although active TB can be a serious disease, it is a treatable condition," the release said. Tuberculosis is a contagious disease that can cause cough, fever, night sweats and weight loss. Not everyone infected with the bacteria causing tuberculosis shows symptoms. Extended periods of time in enclosed spaces are required for tuberculosis to spread, the release said. Allegan County Health Department officials informed the district of the diagnosis. The district is working with ACHD to develop a response plan, including identifying people who were exposed to the individual for extended periods of time while they were contagious, according to a press release from FPS.

Each year on October 4th, St. Francis of Assisi is held in high esteem as the patron saint of animals. Though some might connect him to the Roman Catholic Church, he became a wonderful inspiration to protestants around the world. The day of St. Francis' death became World Animal Day. The United Methodist Church and Good Shepherd Episcopal Church have designated the Sunday closest to October 4th as a day to gather the animals for a special blessing. On October 5, 2025, Pastor Julia Humenik, Fr. Corwin Stoppel, and Deacon Elma Rosenberg moved among the animals and their handlers on the lawn of the United Methodist Church to bless the dozens of dogs and one rather reluctant cat. Saint Francis was more than a lover of nature and all its creatures that bless us with food, clothing, and friendship. He was a lover of peace. After a short time in the army of Count Brienne and two years as a prisoner, he went on a pilgrimage to Rome and joined the poor begging outside St. Peter's Basilica. He returned to Umbria, England where he sought God's guidance and felt the calling to repair God's Church. This calling compelled him to rejuvenate and reform the people while caring for God's creations – the animals and environment. Following Jesus' commands to "leave everything and follow Me" (Luke 18:22), "Love your neighbor" (Matthew 19:1), and "Love your enemies" (Matthew 5:4), Francis did just that. He took a challenge Jesus' teachings "Blessed are the peacemakers" (Matthew 5:9) and "Faith without works is dead" (James 2:26). Taking these messages to the world led him on a unique while arduous path. Those who followed St. Francis' way of life in the world became known as Franciscans, which became an evangelistic movement. With the support of the Pope, in 1209, an order of Mendicant Friars was formed. Rather than focus on establishing a monastery and hold lands, the friars went into the world to preach and live action. As the animals gathered around the United Methodist Church, there

Local pets receive St. Francis' blessing

The Methodist and Episcopal churches in Allegan invited all to gather on Sunday, October 5, 2025, for a Blessing of the Animals. The remembrance of St. Francis of Assisi's death on October 4th has become World Animal Day to honor Francis' love of nature and the animals that bless all that is in it. Of the animals gathered, some had been rescued, some were sought strictly for companionship, some performed specific tasks, and one hopes to become a licensed service dog. All received a blessing and a thank you for the joys they bring to their human families. Photos: Jim Kauppi was a mix of small chihuahuas, beautiful collies, rescued greyhounds, short-legged corgis, mixed varieties, and even a yellow lab headed into her next chapter to become a service animal. The opening of St.

Francis' Prayer is "Make me a channel of your peace..." The closing prayer for this gathering was: "Go out into the world, love one another, cherish your animal family, protest against abuse and neglect of animals; exercise stewardship of all creation, so that all can experience God's Shalom (Peace)." The offering given during the gathering will benefit the Wishbone Pet Rescue Alliance.

I dare you to put down that cellphone and pay a visit

Interaction with other people is critical to our mental health. The texting, phone calling crowd must put down their cellphones occasionally and actually visit friends and families. Unfortunately, this is not happening enough and so many problems are caused because they are not.

I put partial blame on the cellphone and internet. Although considered two of the greatest inventions ever, most all of us spend more time on a cellphone than we ever dreamed of doing. It is addicting and has changed the way we communicate. However, man cannot live by phone alone. There has to be more to life than a cellphone, tablet or computer. There is a world out there.

There are people who live in the world who are just like you. They crave connections and relationships. Most are finding them on their cellphones through social media or various Internet sites.

The sad reality of this is that people aren't really connecting to other people. Cellphone or social media communication is typically very surface communication. I am guilty of one word, or one sentence responses. We aren't really sharing that much about ourselves nor understanding that much about what others are doing or going through. Usually, we have perceptions that are not completely accurate.

Interpersonal communication is critical to the mental and spiritual health of our planet. We need communication and real in-person talking. Telephone conversations are critical but personal visits, when possible, are even better.

Just take a look at our current political climate. Do Republicans and Democrats ever sit down together to discuss their differences amiably. This occurred more frequently before the widespread use of cellphones and social media, but it is now uncommon. Do you think all the social media exchanges, excusing one another of improprieties, is healthy for any of us? Of course not.

Family gatherings are critical. People need to feel connected to family. Your family may be small, but you need each other, and love must always be the priority. How many terrorist shooters might have been saved from their heinous acts if family and possibly a couple of friends could have had real connections to those people? My guess is many.

As parents, we often back off too much. We give too much freedom and too much space. We need to stay right in the middle of our children's lives as much as we possibly can. This means keeping the conversations going. We must continue to care about what they are doing, where they are going and what is going on in their lives. This becomes very difficult as children grow up and don't want their parents in their business, but we must be diligent.

Keep in mind that you are still a mom or a dad. You can't treat your 21-year-old like they are ten, but you can keep reaching out, expressing love, giving encouragement and embracing them emotionally. Of course, even then, some children grow up to choose destructive lifestyles or make horrific life decisions. People have minds of their own. Yet, if parents and family members keep reaching out to each other it might just be enough to keep a loved one on a good path and living a good life.

Please join me in reaching out more by person versus cellphone or email. I've been a miserable failure at this. The cellphone has become my best friend. I know this is true for many of you. Let's put it aside and pay a visit to that lonely friend or relative or actually have a conversation with our daughter or son. I'm going to try. Hopefully you will too.

By G.C. STOPPEL

About the time Pat and I married, new neighbors moved next to our home, and in no time Pat and Sylvia became close friends.

Pat had worked in the fur department at Marshall Field's in Chicago. Sylvia was across the street at Carson, Pirie and Scott as head buyer for women's fashions.

Now the challenge was that Sylvia and Scott had always lived in high-rise apartments in Chicago, and this was the first time they lived in a home.

When time came for their lawn to be mowed, Scott was busy watching the Cubs, so when I saw Sylvia struggling to start the mower, I walked over to their house. She was a bit miffed and accused me of not having any faith in her because she was a woman from the city.

She dutifully checked the oil several times, put in the gas and pulled on the cord. Eventually the engine coughed and began to purr like a good Briggs and Stratton should. With that, she stuck out her tongue and said, "Oh ye of little faith."

About an hour later, exhausted, she came to our front door and asked me to look at the lawn, lamenting, "It isn't a bit shorter than when I started." I walked over, turned the lawn mower on its side and said that she needed a blade, adding, "All the faith in the world won't cut the grass without a blade."

It made me wonder why Mother wore what the women of her church circle called a faith necklace: a glass or acrylic ball with a mustard seed in the middle. It was a reminder that if they just had faith they could move mountains. Or mow the lawn without a blade.

But faith doesn't work that way. It is not some sort of magic, or rituals, sacrifices and muttering secret words to accomplish something.

How many times have we been like the disciples, asking, even demanding that Jesus and God increase our faith. We think if They would do that, we could deal with this serious challenge. If we had an extra dollop of faith, we could face that troublesome person, health problems or anything else. We don't have enough faith; give us a second big helping, please.

But that's not how it works either.

During the 1930s Dust Bowl, folks in Oklahoma were in rough straits. The nation had slid into the Great Depression and now, to make matters worse, there was a drought and strong winds.

The folks, at least those who had not gone to California, in one rural town decided to forget denominational barriers and have a united prayer service to ask God to please send rain. They gathered, the area clergy took turns preaching, leading singing, stomping, shouting and praying. And nothing happened.

Then one of them spotted a small boy holding an umbrella. Of all the people there that night, he was the only one who put faith into action. If the olds were going to pray for rain, he was going to be prepared.

The boy understood: Faith also requires action.

Because Good Shepherd Church in Allegan is close to the library, sometimes I see families crossing the street to get to the building. Sometimes it is a parent, but far more often a child who reaches up to hold hands with someone they trust.

The street is empty of cars and danger minimal, but they still reach up to take their parent's hand.

This handholding isn't some talisman or magic. It is faith. Mother or father will protect me and I will get safely to the other sidewalk. That is faith in action.

G CORWIN STOPPEL

Pat and I went with friends to Prague a few years ago. It was a big, rowdy city, almost always filled with young men from England known as lager louts who come over on cheap air flights for a naughty weekend.

I don't do well with big crowds for long. A friend called and told Pat when you get there and you're in a crowd, or crossing St Charles Bridge, take his arm. It will ground him.

Pat did and it worked quite well. I admit I enjoyed having a beautiful woman on my arm, but just that light touch was enough to keep me in one piece. Nothing magical, no placebo effect, just faith.

To grow in faith requires three related attributes. The first is creativity. Before the hand can make anything, the mind must see it.

Philosopher Napoleon Hill wrote "What the mind of man can conceive and believe, the hand of man can achieve." Creativity is the first step, but everything fails if it is all in the brain heart.

The second attribute is motivation. What motivates you to do anything? Figure it out. Is it a story that you want to create and share with others? Is it making money? Power? The desire to live up to your potential? Decide for yourself.

The third is self-discipline to get started and do the thing, consistently and to the best of your ability.

Years ago Dick Cavett was interviewing Sylvia Beach, the American-born owner of the Shakespeare and Co. bookstore in Paris in the years between the first and second world war.

They talked about the well-known writers and artists, but then when Cavett asked if there were others, this little bird of a woman answered, "Oh yes, but they never did anything. They talked about painting or writing, but all they did was drink wine and talk. They never did anything."

During World War II, Chinese American woman, Hazel Ying Lee trained to be a WASP — an Air Force Auxiliary whose job it was to fly everything from lightweight trainers to fighter planes to heavy bombers from the factor to the air bases in the States.

One day she was ferrying a Mosquito fighter when it developed engine trouble over Kansas and she had to land in a farm field. It wasn't long before the locals came up to help.

That is, until she took off her flying helmet and they took one look at her, convinced that the Japanese had invaded beautiful downtown Kansas. The farmers grabbed their pitchforks, crow bars, ax handles and anything they could find to make sure she did not escape or signal others. But she stayed calm, explained she was helping the American war effort and was not an enemy.

Again, that is faith in action, faith in herself and in her fellow countrymen. And it worked.

Jesus said I have come so that you might have life abundantly. Faith put into action is how we thank and honor Him as we live abundantly and joyously. The equation is simple: If you have faith in someone or something, take action.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Don't blame Dems for government shutdown

To the Editor:

We wish to congratulate Congressman Huizenga on receiving another all expense taxpayer paid vacation from his grueling duties in the militarized capital of the free world. Clearly it's been difficult for him and his Republican colleagues to avoid governing this nation in a bipartisan manner. That's assuming they take governing seriously. Judging from Mr. Huizenga's actions to date, he hasn't used any of his Article One responsibilities to place checks and balances on either of the other two branches of our government. What it looks like from Michigan's CD 4 is that Mr. Huizenga and his fellow Republican congressmen faxed Article One to the current occupant of our White House, then left town to spend their new free time vacationing and/or buttonholing wealthy donors to help with their next campaigns. One would think they could spend that extra time with us common folk, explaining how it's to our benefit to give trillions of dollars of tax breaks to billionaires while every day costs for the rest of us skyrocket.

This long time married couple just received notice from our health insurance company about changes for 2026. Due to Mr. Huizenga's unflagging efforts to defund the healthcare system for regular Americans, we are now facing increased costs for premiums, co-pays and deductibles. Our insurance company also will be offering fewer benefits. Millions of American citizens who depend on Medicaid or get insurance through the Affordable Care Act marketplace are also facing steep increases. Health care was gutted by the Big Ugly Bill which Mr. Huizenga proudly supports. Republicans are trying to frame the bill by giving it an appealing name. You've heard the saying about pigs and lipstick? "Big Ugly Bill" works for us.

Now, Mr. Huizenga and his fellow congress critters shut down the government, a typical Republican tactic, to coerce Democrats to rubber-stamp a budget resolution they had no hand in creating. This Continuing Resolution (CR) was created by Republicans without any bi-partisan input and is making healthcare, among other things, unaffordable. How does Mr. Huizenga think increasing healthcare costs is going to play out among regular taxpaying American citizens? Republican lawmakers are defunding healthcare for us while they have excellent, tax payer subsidized healthcare for themselves. Does he even care?

Americans are paying more for groceries, cars, medicine, furniture and things needed for everyday life because of the Trump

Tax (tariffs) and inflation. Now, Mr. Huizenga wants Democrats to give Trump and congress cover for destroying the nation's health system. Sorta like a mass murderer handing his weapon to a survivor then skedaddling to a country with no extradition treaty. Republicans control Congress and the Executive branch. Mr. Huizenga is on board with keeping the federal government closed unless Democrats allow this Trump controlled Congress to increase our health care premiums and kick millions off Medicaid. Blaming Democrats for shutting down the government really shows how incompetent Republicans are at governing this nation. Mr. Huizenga, have you no shame?

Florentino Ernest Charo, 63

Kalamazoo, Michigan — With heavy hearts, the family of Florentino Ernest Charo announces his passing on October 2, 2025, in Kalamazoo, Michigan, after a short but courageous battle with cancer. He was born on September 27, 1962, in Waukesha, Wisconsin, and grew up in Bay City, Michigan, where he formed the strong family bonds and lifelong friendships that remained central throughout his life. Florentino was the proud father of Florentino Jr., Vicente, Juan, and Allegra, and a deeply loving grandfather to Kaia, who was his greatest joy. His children and granddaughter were his heart, and he dedicated his life to being a source of love, guidance, and strength for them. He is also survived by his siblings: Mikey, Danny (Lori), Rose (Derrick), and Teresa (John), as well as numerous nieces, nephews, cousins, aunts, uncles, and friends who will carry his memory forward. Florentino was preceded in death by his father Refugio Charo, his mother Florentina Charo, his brother Rey Charo, and his nephew Hollywood Charo. Florentino’s life was enriched by the things he loved. He enjoyed singing, cooking, and spending time with family, and he had a passion for old cars, rebuilding them with care, riding motorcycles, and watching football with his family. Above all, he treasured time with his granddaughter Kaia, who brought light and laughter to his days. He will be remembered as a man of warmth, humor, and generosity — someone who lived with resilience, gave freely of himself, and always made those around him feel welcome. In accordance with Florentino’s wishes, no formal service will be held. In lieu of flowers, the family kindly asks that donations be made to the local animal shelter, a cause that reflects his love for kindness and care. Though his time with us was far too brief, Florentino leaves behind a legacy of love and strength that will live on in the hearts of his family and friends forever.

Worming Conference, Oct 18 at Glenn Community Center

By G C Stoppel

Jill Woods of Fennville will be offering area residents an opportunity to explore vermiculture at the Glenn Community Center on Saturday, October 18, from 9 AM to 3 PM. Vermiculture is defined as the raising, keeping, and cultivation of worms. More specifically, it is the cultivation of red worms for composting, and blood worms for fish bait. Wood’s seminary is primarily about red worms. She has been experimenting with and practicing vermiculture for the past several decades, but her interest and work intensified last year when she joined an online group, Captain Matt’s Worm People. Working with others and sharing experiences, has been beneficial as she moves from being a hobbyist into establishing her own business of selling worms for composting and worm castings for fertilizer. Casting is the formal way of writing “worm poop” - one of the richest natural fertilizer available. Woods spends much of her time at her farm, The Bin, in rural Fennville. While her worms are busy eating, breeding, and casting, she also works as an artist, creating beautiful items out of willow and other natural resources on her land. The Worm Conference on October 18th, is open to the public. The workshops are in the morning. It is a chance to learn how to more effectively recycle your food scraps/waste, raise and breed red worms, and add extra nutrients to your garden while protecting the environment. In the afternoon there will be free demonstrations. Pre-registration is requested. Please contact Woods at wormpeople-mi@gmail.com

Antkoviak returns to the Child Advocacy Centers of Michigan Board

By Gari Voss

The Safe Harbor Children's Advocacy Center (CAC) announced that Executive Director Lori Antkoviak, JD, was voted by her fellow children's advocacy center directors to represent them on the Children's Advocacy Centers of Michigan (CACMI) Board of Directors. Her three-year term began September 19, 2025, and she was assigned to the Governance Committee.

Antkoviak is no stranger to the CACMI. From 2008 to 2016, she served as secretary, and from 2013 to 2016, held the Board Chair position. An important element of this term is not only that her peers asked her to serve, but she will be a member of the Governance Committee.

"Lori demonstrates keen navigation skills while she guides our local community through the many facets and challenges within children's advocacy," said Safe Harbor's Board Chair Erin Bonovetz. "As she continues to serve our three counties in West Michigan, we are excited to see her bring her passion and professionalism to the state level and to help elevate the voices for our state's children who are victims of abuse and neglect."

CACMI serves as the statewide coordinating agency for the 40 children

advocacy centers across Michigan. Therefore, CACMI forms a cohesive network dedicated to providing compassionate, coordinated care for every child in Michigan who experiences abuse. The Board's role is to empower local CACs by providing essential support and resources which enhance their effectiveness and reach, including training, technical assistance, operational support, resource development, and policy & funding advocacy.

Though she has not been on the Board of Directors for several years, Antkoviak anticipates continuing her work with the CACMI Board alongside her fellow children's advocacy experts.

"I look forward to serving on the CACMI Board to create statewide advocacy and to ensure that local CACs are given support by the state," said Antkoviak. "I am honored to serve all of Michigan's children, so that we may provide a lifeline to the victims of abuse and neglect."

Since 2007, Antkoviak has been executive director of Safe Harbor CAC. Initially, the Allegan center was her sole responsibility. In 2013, the Barry Satellite office opened in Hastings to respond to abuse and neglect requests. When it became apparent that Van Buren County required the services of a CAC office, Antkoviak and her team tackled establishing an office in Hartford.

As if three offices were not enough to manage, Antkoviak and her board began a capital building project that moved the Allegan operation from its former location on Trowbridge Street in Allegan to a modern facility on Sherman Street. This required beginning from the ground up and now provides a modern environment with spaces that facility comfortable interactions with children.

Antkoviak's work as a lawyer handling child abuse and neglect, family law, and criminal cases, and her CAC experience in meeting the extensive needs of children who have faced the trauma of abuse and neglect make her an excellent representative of the CAC centers across Michigan. Creating the facility in Allegan demonstrates her desire to provide all-in-one centers that can coordinate forensic interviewing and follow-up by a multidisciplinary team of professionals who range from law enforcement to physicians to mental health clinicians for the children and their families who have experienced trauma.

The CACMI Governance Committee responsibilities will utilize all of Antkoviak's knowledge and skills. This Committee of CACMI upholds the organization's mission, vision and values. By providing strategic advice to centers, it oversees financial management and long-term planning. In addition, the Committee ensures compliance with legal and regulatory requirements. Most importantly, Committee members engage with center stakeholders and represent the CAC organization in the community.

As Antkoviak steps back onto the CACMI Board, she will continue her work with Safe Harbor in Allegan, Barry, and Van Buren Counties and her involvement within the Southwest Michigan community while continuing to sit on the Beacon Health Allegan Foundation Committee.

Broadband expands to 7300 homes in county

By John Raffel
Correspondent

According to data published on the Allegan County website, the broadband expansion funded by federal ARPA grants has made internet access available to 7,274 residents not previously able to connect to a provider. 123Net, the county's contractor for much of the expansion effort, has installed 934 miles of fiber optic cable, which is 88.9% of the mileage the company plans to install. 123Net divided the county into twelve project zones at the start of the project.

"To date eight of the 12 zones are completed," former county commissioner Jim Storey reported. "The ARPA funds are used to make available 11,000 addresses, but they were not enough to do all the unserved areas of the county. The Michigan high speed internet office approved BEAD grants for another 2220 addresses in the county which will be split among 123Net and other providers. County leadership has decided to disband the broadband action workgroup that was convened to jump-start the internet program when ARPA funds were allocated.

The official termination is scheduled for Thursday night's Board of Commissioners meeting.

Senate candidate holds town hall in Allegan

By Gari Voss

Mallory McMorrow began an extremely busy Saturday, October 4, 2025, conversing with residents of Allegan and the surrounding area. Taking up the challenge to gain support to replace Gary Peters for the Michigan U.S. Senate, McMorrow wants to understand the needs and wants of all Michigan residents from the rural areas to the larger cities and the many burgs in between.

The decision to enter the political arena stemmed from a middle school incident after the 2016 election.

“The 2016 election divided neighbors even in Royal Oak, and it felt like people couldn’t talk to each other anymore,” remembers McMorrow. “A video went viral of middle school students in their lunchroom slamming their fists on the table and chanting, ‘Build that wall!’ at one of their classmates. This was Royal Oak Middle School which had been my polling place. I looked at what had happened and thought that this is so broken that we demonize each other. I wanted to do something about it.”

In 2018, McMorrow ran successfully for the Michigan Senate against incumbent Marty Knollenberg. This required learning how to work with the people in her district in order to move into the Michigan Senate. At the time, the Senate was controlled by Republicans and movement to pass legislation was difficult.

This led McMorrow to create a PAC that could assist other candidates around Michigan to win their races for the State Legislature. The efforts led to the Democrats creating a trifecta which meant a Democrat majority in the House and Senate with a Democrat governor. During those few years, McMorrow was proud to share some of the legislation that passed.

McMorrow ticked off some of the gains for Michigan residents, “We were able to repeal the senior pension tax, expand the earned income tax credit, pass real gun violence prevention laws, pass Filter First legislation that makes sure children never drink lead-tainted water at school, expand housing supplements whether for new builds or rehabs by partnering with MSHDA [the MI State Housing Development Authority], and expand voting rights and civil rights.”

Currently, McMorrow realizes that the state government and the people of Michigan are at the whim of what comes from the federal level. But she is working proactively to keep Michigan businesses from dissolving because of outside forces.

“I am the Senate Majority Whip and chair of the Economic and Community Development Committee,” explained McMorrow. “Something extremely important to my work is diversifying the state’s economy so we rely less on corporate tax incentives for large scale manufacturing projects, and more on diversifying and regionalizing economic development by investing more into small businesses, entrepreneurs and startups while tying into universities.”

This has led McMorrow to work with John Damoose from the Upper Peninsula to introduce legislation that will benefit Michigan economy. Again, McMorrow and her team when to the stakeholders – businesses, community members, economic leaders, local governments, educators, startups, and others. What they found was that “while Michigan is full of innovative people, the state lacks coordination, shared vision, and accessible resources compared to peer states with comprehensive, long-term economic development strategies.”

Based on roundtable discussions, Senators McMorrow and Damoose introduced Senate Bills 213 and 214. The bipartisan legislation compelled the state to create a 10-year economic development strategic plan. The plan would be developed by a board of voting and non-voting members, including state agencies, regional economic development organizations, industry leaders, and national experts. The goal was to complete the strategic plan by September 2025, that provided a comprehensive, long-term vision and approach to positioning Michigan for sustained, inclusive economic growth.

As McMorrow travels around Michigan holding “Town Hall” meetings like the one at Mugshots in Allegan, she listens. What she has learned is that people in Michigan’s small towns, rural and agricultural areas feel left out. An example of the frustration came during a meeting with dairy farmers. Some wanted to turn a portion of their acreage into solar fields. The solar could assist them financially and keep their dairy operations afloat. But, with the new federal administration taking away solar funding, the farmers no longer have the opportunity to decide how they can utilize their land and keep their businesses solvent as costs rise. If the cost of milk rises, there is a tipping point for consumers... When the price of milk gets too high, customers stop buying, and farmers go deeper in debt.

Along with listening, McMorrow takes some talking points. “There is a new American dream. I graduated right into the recession. I had a great internship in 2007, but even with a degree, I did not have a place to live, no health benefits because the Affordable Care Act was not yet in existence, and I applied for more than 300 jobs before finding some traction.”

Today, people are sharing, “I’ve done everything right, and I am still behind.”

“Residents across the state are expressing their fears,” Morrow explained. “The current president tapped into some of those frustrations when he ran for office and made promises, but what he is doing is not solving the problems. The situation is getting worse, whether from tariffs, or ICE agents invading communities, or him giving $20 billion to Argentina to help their economy when at the same time, he is promoting slashing Medicaid and Medicare and the Affordable Care Act subsidies. People are hurting.”

On the positive side McMorrow could confidently state, “I am the only candidate in the race who has beat a Republican incumbent and flipped an entire chamber for the first time. Now as the Senate majority whip, my job is to bring the entire Democratic party together in my caucus and move forward on policy. That is what I want to bring to Washington.”

Reflecting on her visit to Allegan, McMorrow listed some takeaways. “People are looking for a way out. We have been walking on eggshells, and people are really scared about what they are seeing from the Trump administration defying the Supreme Court and tearing down institutions, like closing the Department of Education. They are seeing funding cuts for research related to Alzheimer’s, cancer, and infectious diseases. A lot of the conversation was around how to get out of this, and how we can bring people back to a democracy.”

McMorrow found the 75+ people gathered at Mugshots to be very engaging. “They took the conversation back to a discussion on the cost of living. McMorrow believes that this is what people see and feel every day in their lives. Conversations must begin there. Those talking points on the basic building blocks of life often move into how to protect civil rights and our institutions. But if people can’t afford food, the other things feel too big.”

After Allegan, McMorrow traveled to Grand Haven before moving on to Grand Rapids and concluding her day at the Best of the West Gala. At this time, she is anticipating an extremely busy two years which she hopes will move into six more in the U.S. Senate.

Bulldogs edge out Trojans to win conference crown

By JASON WESSELDYK
SPORTS EDITOR

THREE RIVERS—Given its performance during the regular season, the Otsego girls golf team entered the Wolverine Conference Championship at Pineview Golf Course on Wednesday, Oct. 1, as the team to beat.

The Bulldogs didn't disappoint.

Led by medalist Annika Quakenbush, Otsego put together a school-record 18-hole total of 352 to edge out Plainwell (359) for the championship.

Vicksburg was third at 385, followed by Sturgis (396), Paw Paw (402), Edwardsburg (408), Niles (430) and Three Rivers (434).

The league title was the second straight and third in program history for Otsego.

"The championship represents the reward for all the hard work and dedication our team put in during the offseason," Otsego coach Michael Miller said. "What stood out most to me was the way we finished. Several of our girls closed out their rounds with confidence and limited mistakes, allowing us to pull away from an outstanding Plainwell team over the final few holes."

Quakenbush shot a 78, giving her a one-stroke win over Plainwell's Ayla Jaeger. Jaeger did receive a nice consolation prize, however, as she received the Outstanding Golfer Award by virtue of having the lowest season average in league competition.

Avery Selent (third at 86) and Malania Miller (tied for eighth at 90) joined Quakenbush in the top 10 for Otsego. Both also joined Quakenbush in earning All-Conference honors.

Madden Fitzpatrick (16th at 98) rounded out the scoring golfers for the Bulldogs, while Alissa Holmes (18th at 100) and Channing Dobbs (34th at 112) also competed. Holmes received All-Conference Honorable Mention based on her performance throughout the season.

For Plainwell, Sophia Beck (10th at 92), Sam Labonte (11th at 93) and Addison Lyke (12th at 95) followed Jaeger as scoring golfers. Emma Rayman (14th at 96) and Harper Johnson (26th at 104) also completed.

Beck and Rayman earned All-Conference, with Johnson, and Lyke receiving All-Conference Honorable Mention.

"Throughout the season, the Bulldogs and Trojans battled in highly competitive matches, showcasing the strength of both programs," Miller said.

Otsego was slated to compete in a Division 3 regional at Forest Hills Akers on the campus of Michigan State KENT CITY—Talk about saving your best for last. On her final hole of the OK Silver Conference Finals at The Falls at Beaver Creek on Tuesday, Sept. 30, Hopkins sophomore Annika Ford sank a hole-in-one to cement her runner-up finish in the individual standings.

But wait, as they say in those late-night infomercials, there's more. Because Ford's final score of 86 also set a new school record.

"Annika's hole-in-one was definitely a highlight for us," Hopkins coach Russell VanDommelen said. "She played great overall. She played to her average on the front nine but then shot +3 on the back to climb the leaderboard."

"She has played well all year, and it was great to see her rise to the occasion in a big event."

As a team, Hopkins placed fourth with a score of 447. NorthPointe Christian took first at 365, while Belding was second at 397 and Calvin Christian was third at 403.

That was the same order of finish as in the regular season. Ford's ace occurred on the par-3 15th hole.

Rorey Houser (18th at 114), Morgan Brinks (20th at 122) and Sofia Lavigne (21st at 125) rounded out the scoring golfers for Hopkins. Lily Dehring (23rd at 128) and Kennedy Parsons (26th at 133) also completed.

Ford finished third in league scoring average, earning her All-Conference honors.

PORTAGE—Another meet, another strong showing for the Saugatuck cross country teams.

Taking part in the Division 3 races at the Portage Invitational on Saturday, Oct. 4, the Saugatuck boys placed second with 142 points, while the girls team finished third with 134 points.

Only top-ranked Jackson Lumen Christi (118) bested the Saugatuck boys. On the girls side, No. 1 Lansing Catholic (46) and No. 2 Pewamo-Westphalia (114) were the teams that finished ahead of the Trailblazers.

"Both teams continue to impress against top-tier competition," Saugatuck boys coach Rick Bauer said.

The top four finishers for the Saugatuck boys earned medals by placing in the top 50.

Marcus Silva led the way with a 12th-place showing of 16:43. Grant Rehkopf (15th at 16:57), Sawyer Monroe (16th at 16:59) and Jackson Bowman (21st at 17:03) followed.

Sammy Gamboa (83rd at 18:16) was Saugatuck's final scoring runner, while Isaac Cruz (19:12) and Simon Carr (19:21) also competed.

For the Saugatuck girls, Alina Martinson (12th at 19:54), Kamryn Sixberry (15th at 20:04) and Lyvia Curtis (23rd at 20:29) earned medals.

Ryann Monroe (141st at 23:30) also raced for the Trailblazers.

The Fennville boys placed 34th with 924 points and the Fennville girls were 23rd with 616 points.

Isabelle Sliter had a strong showing for the Fennville girls, placing eighth at 19:22.

Martin football cruises past Muskegon Heights

By JASON WESSELDYK
SPORTS EDITOR

MUSKEGON—Martin football coach Brad Blauvelt has high standards for his team. And understandably so, as the Clippers have won two 8-Player Division 1 state championships in the past two years and look like a strong contender to the title again this season.

That's why, despite his team's 70-6 win over host Muskegon Heights on Friday, Oct. 3, Blauvelt has this to say:

"We didn't execute as well as I had hoped," he said.

Again, high standards. Adding to Blauvelt's sentiments was the fact that the Clippers will be facing Sacred Height Academy at home on Wednesday, Oct. 8. Kickoff is 6 p.m.

"We will have to move on quickly (from the Muskegon Heights game) as we play maybe our toughest opponent of the year in Sacred Heart. We are definitely looking forward to facing a worthy opponent because as the playoffs inch closer, we need to play in more competitive games."

Seth Toris shined for Martin on both sides of the ball against Muskegon Heights.

Offensively, he carried the ball 13 times, racking up 120 yards and two touchdowns. Defensively, he led the way with a team-best five tackles.

"Seth played very well on both sides of the ball," Blauvelt said. "He brought a lot of energy."

Blauvelt also praised the play of James Grubers.

"I thought James did a nice job blocking on the offensive line," Blauvelt said.

Three other Clippers joined Toris with two rushing touchdowns apiece:

Haylen Buell, Weson Elkins and Bryer Watson.

Buell finished with 70 rushing yards, while Elkins had 50 on three carries and Watson had 41 on three carries.

Watson also added an interception in the second half from his defensive back position.

Zaiden Buell totaled four tackles to go with a forced fumble. He also recovered two onside kicks.

Issac Suk contributed three tackles, two forced fumbles and a blocked punt.

OTSEGO—The Otsego football team entered its home game with Vicksburg still searching for its Wolverine Conference win. Vicksburg had yet to drop a league game.

But a standout performance from senior Lane Blanchard helped Otsego overcome a 10-point halftime deficit and secure the 32-21 win.

Otsego improved to 2-4 overall and 1-3 in conference action.

"It mean a lot to beat a really good team," Otsego coach Damien Ross said. "They've had a lot of success offensively this year and had some against us, but I'm proud in how we weathered the storm."

The fact that it was Military Appreciation Night in Otsego made the victory even more special.

"It was a great deal," Ross said. "We talked during the week about how these veterans uphold the foundation so we are able to go out and play a game. It was nice to share that moment with them."

Otsego fell behind 14-0 after one quarter and trailed 24-14 at halftime. A 12-7 edge in the third quarter narrowed the gap to 31-26 entering the final stanza.

Blanchard rushed for 222 yards and three touchdowns. Kole Engleright added 140 rushing yards and a receiving touchdown, while Zeke Andrina had two catches for 63 yards and one TD.

"We thought we could be physical with them, and our line showed that one both sides of the ball," Ross said. "We've played well these past few weeks and still haven't played our best yet, which is super encouraging."

Hamilton, Otsego, Allegan compete at D3 invitational

By JASON WESSELDYK
SPORTS EDITOR

HOLLAND—The annual Holland Christian D3 Midseason Invitational took place on Saturday, Oct. 4, and three local teams were among included in the 12-team field.

Hamilton had the best showing of that trio, placing fifth with 212 points. Otsego finished ninth with 115 points, while Allegan was 11th with 47 points.

Hamilton's Alyssa Volkers

Otsego's Hope Stender

Unity Christian earned the top spot with 386 points, followed by Grand Rapids Christian (350.5), Holland Christian (338) and St. Joseph (318).

In addition to having the best finish of the local team, Hamilton also had the area's two event wins: Josi Popma in diving (377.5 points) and Alyssa Volkers in the 500 freestyle relay (5:11.29). That time by Volkers—who also placed second in the 200 free at 1:57.27—represented a new school record.

Others to medal for the Hawkeyes by virtue of placing in the top eight were: Adaline Garvelink in the 100 breaststroke (1:14.76) and the 200 IM (sixth at 2:25.89); Maya Miller in diving (sixth at 308.35); Keira Volkers in the 50 free (seventh at 25.69) and the 100 butterfly (seventh at 106.68); the 200 free relay team of Paige Kleinheksel, Garvelink, Keira Volkers and Alyssa Volkers (fourth at 1:45.74); and the 400 free relay team of Keira Volkers, Alyssa Volkers, Nora VandenBerg and Garvelink (fourth at 3:59.8).

Otsego had four medal-winning performances. More importantly to Bulldogs coach Darryl Belton, all of his swimmers showed continued improvement.

"We had a great meet," Otsego coach Darryl Belton said. "This was the first big invitational of the year where the other teams were going to be 'big girl' fast. We have a ton of new swimmers who have never experienced anything like it, and I was a little worried about how they would respond.

"As it turns out there was no need to worry, as we had (personal records) everywhere.

Two of those PRs came in the same event, as Hope Stender placed sixth in the 500 free at 5:36.95 and teammate Bella Xenos was close behind in eighth at 5:39.49.

Diver Millie Shattuck also medaled by placing eighth with 302.5 points. The 400 free relay team of Stender, Aubrey Smith, Laney Sweet and Xenos finished sixth at 4:01.4.

"Kylee Worden, Karis Slater, Juni Sisson and Lydia Griffith all were great in their first meet like this one," Belton said. "I wasn't as surprised with the swims that Morgan Gruber, Alyssa Long, Aubrey Smith and Laney Sweet had, as they are all returning swimmers from last year and they knew what to expect. Hailey Montgomery had a very good diving score.

"And Hope Stender and Bella Xenos qualifying for the state meet in the 500 was the cherry on top of all of it. I was very proud of our team."

Eliza DeLaet was the standout performer for Allegan, medaling in two events. She finished sixth in both the 50 free (25.61) and the 100 butterfly (1:02.88).

"Our team competed with heart, courage and determination against some of the top Division 3 teams in the state," Allegan coach Carol Gephart said.

"Every Allegan athlete swam season-best times in each of their individual events, and both of the team's relays also posted season-best performances. That's a testament to the team's hard work and steady progress throughout the fall."

Hopkins 47 Com. Park 20

The first half of Hopkins' OK Silver contest with Comstock Park was fairly close, with the Vikings taking a 21-13 lead to the intermission.

The second half was a bit of a different story.

Buoyed by a 20-point uprising in the third quarter, the Vikings outscored Comstock Park 26-7 in the second half to roll to the 47-20 win.

The victory snapped a three-game losing skid for Hopkins, which evened its record at 3-3.

Vicente Garza and Justin VanWagner formed quite the one-two punch for the Vikings, as each rushing for more than 120 yards and scored two touchdowns apiece.

Garza, who scored in the first (six yards) and fourth (30 yards) quarters, had 129 yards on 17 carries. VanWagner, who found the end zone in the second (23 yards) and third (35 yards) quarters, went for 124 yards on 14 carries.

Cruz Hitzler nearly gave Hopkins a third 100-yard rusher, as he finished with 94 yards on 10 carries. That included a second-quarter TD run of two yards.

Merek Zapolnik (one yard) and Austin Schaendorf (12 yards) accounted for the other two touchdowns for Hopkins.

Schaendorf also recovered a fumble, while Graycin Ingle, Jace Hibma and Braydon Smigiel each had an interception. Clayton Kerber had a team-best five tackles.

Allegan 21 Parchment 33

Brandon Thrash had quite a performance for Allegan in its SAC contest with Parchment on Friday, Oct. 3, rushing for 152 yards and three touchdowns.

That was the good news for the Tigers. The bad news was that Parchment came out on top 33-21.

Dylan Ritsema added 50 rushing yards for the Tigers, while Hauk Henrickson had 38 yards. Myles Jackson made good on all three of his extra-point kicks.

Defensively, Bradyn Kosiorowski and Keegan Rhoda each had nine tackles, while Ritsema had eight.

Sully Garvin recovered a fumble.

Fennville 22 T.C. 58

Down 40-6 in the early stages of the fourth quarter, Fennville tried to crawl back into its game with Twin Cities on Friday, Oct. 3.

Following a scoring run (14 yards) and successful conversion by Ethan Rosencrans, the Blackhawks got an 18-yard TD pass from Carter Thompson to Gavin Kemper and another conversion run from Rosencrans.

That made the score 40-22.

But Fennville would get no closer, as Twin Cities responded with three touchdowns—one on an interception return—to close out the game and pull away for the 58-22 win.

Fennville's other TD came in the first quarter on a 67-yard pass from Thompson to Ely Schut.

Thompson finished 10-of-24 passing for 167 yards, the two TDs and three interceptions.

Trinity Solis led the Fennville rushing game, going for 98 yards on 12 carries.

Defensive leaders for the Blackhawks included Ashton Senters with 5.5 tackles, Schut with five tackles and Rosencrans and Isiah Souders with four tackles each.

Plainwell 14 Eddies 31

Quarterback Landon Naas threw a pair of touchdown passes to Chib Amaezechi in Plainwell's homecoming game with Edwardsburg on Friday, Oct. 3.

But that wasn't quite enough, as the Eddies posted the 31-14 win.

Amaezechi finished with five catches for 91 yards.

"Chib is a hard matchup for defenses and he proved he's one of the better wide receivers in the area," Plainwell coach Brian Huberty said.

Naas went 9-of-20 passing for 132 yards, the two TDs and two interceptions.

Luke Filkins had 58 rushing yards on 13 carries.

Edwardsburg led 10-0 at halftime and 24-7 after three quarters.

"We're playing really well on defense," Huberty said. "They had 200 yards on the ground, and 100 of that came from two carries."

MHSAA Scholar-Athlete Scholarship applications are open

EAST LANSING—One of the Michigan High School Athletic Association's most popular programs, the Scholar-Athlete Award, will again with Farm Bureau Insurance present 32 $2,000 scholarships to top student-athletes at member high schools during the 2025-26 school year.

The MHSAA/Farm Bureau Insurance Scholar-Athlete Award highlights the value extracurricular activities play in the total education of high school students, often improving their academic achievements in the process.

The Scholar-Athlete Award is in its 37th year. Since the award's inception in 1988-89, Farm Bureau Insurance has presented $1,152,000 in scholarships through this program.

The first 30 scholarships will be presented on a graduated basis across the MHSAA's traditional class structure.

From Class A schools, six boys and six girls will receive scholarships; from Class B schools, four boys and four girls; from Class C schools, three boys and three girls; and from Class D schools, two boys and two girls will be honored. The final two scholarships will be awarded at-large to minority recipients, regardless of school size.

The scholarships may be used at the institution of higher learning the recipients attend during the first year at those colleges.

Applications from individual schools will be limited to the number of available scholarships in their enrollment class. That means Class A schools may submit the names of six boys and six girls, Class B schools may submit four boys and four girls, Class C may submit three boys and three girls and Class D may submit two boys and two girls.

Students applying for Scholar-Athlete Awards must be graduating during the 2025-26 school year, carrying an unrounded 3.5 (on a 4.0 scale) grade-point average and have won a varsity letter in a sport in which the MHSAA sponsors a postseason tournament: baseball, girls and boys basketball, girls and boys bowling, competitive boys cross country, field hockey, football, girls and boys golf, gymnastics, ice hockey, girls and boys lacrosse, girls and boys skiing, girls and boys soccer, softball, girls and boys swimming & diving, girls and boys tennis, girls and boys track & field, girls and boys volleyball and wrestling.

Applicants will be required to show involvement in other school and community activities and submit an essay on the importance of sportsmanship in educational athletics.

Information—including answers to a number of frequently asked questions—and links to the application are available online on the Scholar-Athlete Award page of the MHSAA Website at <https://www.mhsaa.com/about/awards/scholar-athlete-award>.

Applications are available in digital format only and must be submitted online by 4 p.m. Friday, Dec. 5.

A committee composed of school administrators from across the state will select finalists and winners in late January, with the winners to be announced throughout February.

All applicants, finalists and scholarship recipients will be announced on the MHSAA Website. The 32 scholarship recipients will be recognized during the 2026 MHSAA Boys Basketball Finals at the Breslin Student Events Center in East Lansing.

Saugatuck soccer continues winning ways against Allegan

By Jason Wesseldyk
Sports Editor

ALLEGAN—In its road contest with Allegan on Monday, Oct. 6, the Saugatuck boys soccer team took control early and never looked back.

The Trailblazers led 4-0 at halftime on the way to the 5-1 victory. Dante Holley scored three times for Saugatuck, with Charlie Robison accounting for the other two goals. Holley and Robison each also had an assist. Other assists went to Henry Gannon, Ashton Skinner and Tommy Bullinger. Alex Cerneguel scored all three shots he faced in goal for the Trailblazers, while Gannon made one save on two shots. On Wednesday, Oct. 1, Saugatuck broke a scoreless deadlock with two second-half goals to prevail 2-0 against Hackett Catholic. Holley and Nicoli Viten-Johansen scored one goal each, with Gannon and Bullinger collecting one assist apiece.

Cerneguel made seven saves for the shutout. The previous day, the Trailblazers hosted Our Lady of the Lake and won 8-0. Holley scored three goals with one assist. Gannon scored once and had two assists, while Robison had one goal and one assist. Skinner, Frankie Bullinger and Clark Hamlin each scored once. Viten-Johansen had two assists, with Tommy Bullinger and Justin Crawford each chipping in with one assist.

Saugatuck football suffers road loss to G-A

By Jason Wesseldyk
Sports Editor

GALESBURG—Quarterback Walt Bos ran for a team-best 107 yards on 11 carries (9.7 yards per carry average) and threw for 46 yards on 3-of-5 passing during Saugatuck's road game at Galesburg-Augusta on Friday, Oct. 3.

Unfortunately for the Trailblazers, that performance wasn't enough to prevent a third-straight loss.

G-A scored 14 points in each of the first three quarters en route to handing Saugatuck the 42-10 defeat.

The Trailblazers slipped to 2-4.

"This was another tough loss on the road," Saugatuck coach Bill Dunn said. "We had the ability to move the ball down the field, but we were unable to finish drives."

"A credit to Galesburg, as those kids were able to capitalize on their opportunities."

Jack Drummond accounted for the lone Saugatuck touchdown, scoring on a 1-yard run in the second quarter to get the Trailblazers on the board.

Dante Holley made good on the extra-point kick before connected on a 31-yard field goal later in the quarter as Saugatuck went to halftime down 28-10.

Any hope of a comeback by the Trailblazers came to the end in the third quarter, when G-A used a 14-0 advantage to push its lead to 32 points entering the final stanza.

"As hard as our kids play, it still comes down to ball security and defense," Dunn said. "We have to do a better job of taking care of the football and defending the football."

Max Page was second on the team with 51 rushing yards on 17 carries. Mason Leslie added 36 yards on seven carries. Carlos Perez had two receptions for 37 yards. Page had Saugatuck's other catch, which resulted in a 9-yard gain.

Page and Drummond also led the Trailblazers on the defensive end, racking up seven tackles each. Nolan LaLonde added six tackles.

Despite being disappointed with the game's outcome, Dunn believes there are still positives to be taken away.

"Experience is a valuable learning tool," he said. "We are a young team, and hopefully we are gaining experience through adversity."

Martin volleyball beats host Trailblazers

By Jason Wesseldyk

SAUGATUCK—The Saugatuck volleyball team played host to Martin on Tuesday, Sept. 30, with the Clippers prevailing 25-19, 25-22, 25-15.

Martin's serving played a big role in determining the outcome. The Clippers served up 20 aces, led by Mackenzie Schwartz with eight.

"Our serving put the pressure on Saugatuck," Martin coach Shannon Goddard said.

Kendra Goddard and Anna Jager added five and four aces, respectively, for Martin.

Saugatuck, meanwhile, got 13 digs, four kills and two aces from Natalia Laskowski. Gabbie Cochran added nine digs and two aces, while Emma Gosler chipped in with four kills and two blocks.

Ashtyn O'Neill paced Saugatuck with three blocks.

Other standouts for the Clippers were Maggie Jager with eight kills, Kendra Goddard with 17 digs and Torryn Harris with 18 assists.

"We need to continue working on a few aspects to get us to the next level, but the girls are working hard every day in practice," Shannon Goddard said.

On Thursday, Oct. 2, Martin hosted Gobles and won 25-10, 27-25, 24-26, 25-21.

PORTAGE—Domination.

No, check that. Total, complete and utter domination.

Yep. That pretty much sums up Otsego senior cross country standout Emma Hoffman's performance in the Division 2 race at the Portage Invitational on Saturday, Oct. 4.

Crossing the finish line with a time of 16:50, Hoffman won the race by 1:12, leading the Bulldogs to first place in the team standings in the process.

The Bulldogs finished with 86 points to edge out Holland Christian by 10 points. Hopkins finished 24th with 657 points.

Five of Hoffman's teammates joined her in earning a medal by placing in the top 50: Alyana Verhage was 21st at 19:28, Adelyn Verhage was 26th at 19:41, Addelyn Sabatke was 30th at 19:46, Rebekah Stachura was 31st at 19:47 and Skylar Mejeur was 34th at 19:53.

Faces in the Crowd

By G C Stoppel

With only a little less than a month before Halloween, are you prepared? Are you thinking about preparing?

-Woman near the Fennville hardware store: “Prepared? Are you kidding? No! I should be, the kids want me to start, but I am too [expletive] busy!”

-Couple, same location, both look around to see if anyone is close by: Man: “Yeah, sort of.” Woman: “What he isn’t saying is that we have a display planned, but we’re not letting anyone know what we’re doing. We want it to be a surprise.”

-Couple near the Blue Goose; Man: “We’re too far out in the country to do much.” Woman: “We’ve been there for over 20 years, and I don’t think anyone has ever come to trick or treat.” Woman, again: “And it’s a good thing since you always eat the treats.”

-Young woman and infant near the Allegan Public Library: “It’s her first Halloween, so she won’t remember it except for the pictures we take. I’ll figure out a costume for her and we’ll to a couple of places.”

-Two women near the Old Jail Museum; First Woman: “Oh, definitely.

We always did Halloween when we were growing up, so I’ve continued doing it ever since. I love seeing the kids in their costumes.” Second Woman: “I do, too. Especially the young ones who are shy about it. They are soooooo cute.”

Couple near the Allegan Post Office; Man: “You see that place near the bottom of the hill on 40? They go all out, don’t they? I get a kick seeing what they do.” Woman: “Hold on and don’t get any ideas of getting carried away. We’re watching our money, remember?”

-Man, same location: “No, I don’t think so. I saw the price of candy, and it’s more than I want to spend.” Friend with him: “Don’t give up yet. Sometimes they have a pretty good sale a few days before Halloween. Wait and see.”

-Couple near Min-

nie’s: Man: “The wife, she likes Halloween and giving out the candy. Of course, if it’s cold or raining she’ll let me stand out there to do it. A few years back we had snow.” Both laugh Abandoned Wells Got one?

The Allegan Wellhead Protection Program is looking for abandoned, unplugged wells.

Abandoned, unused, unplugged wells threaten groundwater resources and public health. Contaminants from the surface such as fertilizers, pesticides or other run off water, can easily move downward through the unsealed, abandoned well and enter the aquifer. These contaminants may end up in your drinking water well, your neighbors well or the local community drinking water wells.

The City of Allegan would like to identify any abandoned, unplugged wells in and around its wellhead protection zone and explore having them plugged. The zone extends east from the city of Allegan along the north side of M-222 east to 24th St.

If you are the owner of the abandoned, unplugged well and would like assistance in plugging the well. Please contact Allegan Water Utilities at 269-686-1117 or by emailing to Doug Sweeris at dsweeris@cityofallegan.org

SALUTE TO MANUFACTURING

Jordan Wilcox
Assistant Publisher

From the shop floors in Allegan to the lakeshore workshops in Saugatuck and Douglas, manufacturing remains one of the strongest pillars of Allegan County’s economy. It’s an industry built on precision, innovation, and hard work, which continues to shape the lives and livelihoods of thousands of local residents.

Manufacturing has long been part of the county’s identity. Generations of workers have kept production lines humming and small shops thriving, crafting everything from pharmaceuticals and packaging materials to machinery and metal components. Large employers and family-owned manufacturers alike rely on skilled hands, quick minds, and the pride that comes with building something from the ground up.

Today, the industry stands at a crossroads of tradition and technology. Modern facilities are blending decades of craftsmanship with advanced equipment and automation, proving that manufacturing in West Michigan is as dynamic as ever. These companies don’t just produce goods; they fuel local economies, provide stable careers, and drive innovation that reaches far beyond county lines.

For the next generation, manufacturing offers opportunity and purpose. Young people who step into these roles can learn valuable technical skills, earn solid wages, and build long-term careers without having to leave their hometowns. The industry rewards curiosity, problem-solving, and teamwork — traits that never go out of style. With many veteran workers approaching retirement, there’s never been a better time for new talent to enter the field and carry the torch forward.

The importance of manufacturing extends beyond the walls of any plant or factory. It supports families, sustains small businesses, and strengthens the communities that make Allegan County home. Every product made here tells a story of skill, dedication, and pride.

At the Allegan County News, Commercial Record, and Union Enterprise, we recognize and celebrate the people behind those stories. We salute our manufacturers for their hard work, innovation, and continued commitment to excellence. They are the makers, the problem-solvers, and the quiet force powering Allegan County’s future.

FOR THE RECORD

PEEK AT THE PAST

From the pages of The Allegan News and The Allegan County News and Gazette:

Oct. 9, 1950
County's Boom babies getting better care: Better care for Allegan County's booming baby population was promised by Miss Ruth Smith, acting director of the county health department. Of 1,198 babies born in 1949 in the county, 95 percent were born in hospitals, and only one infant was delivered by someone other than a physician. It compares to 1,108 births in 1948 when 94 percent were born in hospitals and two deliveries had no doctor in attendance. In 1946, of the 802 births recorded, 79 were born at home, with 90 percent born in hospitals, Miss Smith said. The birth rate has almost doubled since the 683 births in 1937 when the number born in hospitals was not recorded. Chances are good that the percentage was much less, however, the director said.

Oct. 9, 1975
Hopkins FFA chapter launches pig project: Two bred Yorkshire gilts purchased last month by the Hopkins FFA chapter for use in animal science projects farrowed recently, with one bearing seven piglets and the other bearing nine piglets. The gilts and their litters are housed in the school's animal science building, and they are being cared for by Byron Ewing and John Thompson. The two gilts and their litters are being raised by different methods so agriculture classes at Hopkins can study which method produces the best results—a farrowing crate or a farrowing pen with guard rails. Hopkins Agriculture instructor Roy Miller has been using the piglets in classroom exercises to give all students first-hand experience in such practices as clipping needle teeth, ear notching, giving iron shots and weekly weighing and record keeping.

Tradition or superstition?: Superstitions and the world of sports have gone hand-in-hand from the beginning of athletic competition. A player has to eat the same pre-game meal or listen to the same music prior to every contest. Others have a lucky jersey, T-shirt or, as disturbing as it sounds, underwear that must be worn for every game, at times going unwashed for weeks. But the incorporation of superstition isn't confined to the athletes themselves.

Coaches often have as many, if not more, superstitions than players. And with Friday the 13th—the most superstitious of all days—looming, there is no better time to explore some coaches' compulsions. Few coaches have been more successful than Allegan boys and girls tennis coach Gary Ellis, who has won more than 20 conference championships. Besides winning, there has been one other constant in Ellis' tenure: after-shave. "For the past 13 years, I have a certain after-shave that I wear on match days," Ellis said. The after-shave in question, Gray Flannel, was originally given to Ellis as a gift and ever since he hasn't gone to a match without wearing it. Martin girls basketball coach Joe Orr, meanwhile, has a superstition that revolves around the state tournament. Each year as his team begins tournament play, Orr turns to a trusty pair of socks and a penny for luck. "Years ago I had the same socks on for a couple of games," Orr said. "From that time on, I'll wear those socks until we lose. "Also, one of the kids some years back gave each coach a penny to put in their shoe. Ever since then, when we've going into the tournament, I have a penny in my shoe."

Allegan tennis coach Gary Ellis is longer on tradition than superstitions, yet he doesn't have that confident look about him at the moment. (Photo by Walt Kaechele)

Petition demands Allegan stop the sale of hotel site: Petition to rescind resolution 20.28 to sell 101 Brady Street was filed on Wednesday, September 30, 2020 by the Friends of Mahan Park. The intent of this petition is to stop the sale of 101 Brady Street to CL Real Estate of Peru, Illinois who wish to build a 5-story boutique hotel. The Petition for Referendum reads: "We, the undersigned qualified and registered electors, residents in the city of Allegan, state of Michigan, respectfully petition for the following: 1) That the Allegan City Council repeal the adoption of City Resolution 20.29 which authorized the sale of the parcel 03-51-305-001-00, commonly known as 101 Brady St., to CL Real Estate, LLC of Peru, IL for the purpose of constructing a hotel. 2) That the Allegan City Council also stop any proposed future sale of a portion of State Street which would make the Second Street Bridge a one-way, one-lane bridge."

According to the Charter for the City of Allegan, Section 7.1 references General Authority. 7.1(a) address the "Initiative" that qualified voters have the power to "propose ordinances to the council and, if the council fails to adopt an ordinance so proposed without any charge in substance, to adopt or reject it at a city election..." while 7.1(b) gives qualified voters "power to require reconsideration by the council of any adopted ordinances and, if the council fails to repeal an ordinance so reconsidered, to approve or reject it at a city election..." Jason Watts, who filed the referendum, shared that "The petition contained 228 signatures even though only 150 were required, and many signatures were through the efforts of Charles Tripp." This would align with section 7.2(a) of the City of Allegan Charter that requires referendum petitions to be signed by no less than 150 qualified voters. In the current case, the group intended the petition to be a referendum, which would give the voters the ability to approve or reject either a proposed or enacted decision of the governing body. 7.1(b) in the Charter states that the voters do have the power to request that the City Council reconsider the adoption of an ordinance. If the Council decides to not rescind their earlier decision, the referendum request can be approved or rejected "at a city election, provided that such power shall not extend to the budget or capital program or any emergency ordinance or ordinance relating to appropriation of money or levy of taxes."

RELIGION SECTION

In the 11th chapter of the Book of Genesis we find the quirky story about the Tower of Babel. It is truly quirky. The basic plot is that the people of other tribes and nations came together to build a tower up to heaven so they could look the Lord God face to face. They believed that they would then be equal to God. At first, the construction went well, but when God found it getting dangerously high, he confused the people by giving them different languages. They could not communicate, and the project came to an abrupt end.

Some Bible scholars believe the story happened exactly as it is given, and a few will point to the ancient ziggurats of the Middle East as prove that the project was attempted. Others believe it is an allegory to explain the spiritual dangers of trying to make oneself equal with God, or the futility of trying to take God's Kingdom by storm. Others see it as a fable to explain why there are so many different languages and dialogues in the world that sometimes create serious impediments to good communication.

Perhaps they are all at least partially correct. We know what happens when humanity tries to get too big for its own good, and it ends up as a disaster. For example, we see it when we abuse the natural world, and the rising global temperatures lead to weather that leads floods, rising sea levels, and drought in its wake. Or, as in the case of China in the 1950s, Mao decided that there were too many birds who were eating the grain. He ordered people to kill the birds by any means possible. They did, but then there were no predators to eat the insects that did even more damage.

We also know the difficulty we have communicating with someone who speaks a different language from our own. That, however, is only one part of the challenge. A good friend from India, who speaks very fluent English, one day got frustrated and said, "I know you are speaking English, but what are you saying?" Or, we have different words for the same object. Is a fizzy drink a can of pop or soda? If we can still find them, do you drink from a water fountain or a bubbler?

Professionals sometimes talk in their own 'ese'. Have you ever been around a group of lawyers who speak English, but use many legalese words? Or physicians? They know what they mean, they can talk with other professionals, but when we are in the exam room, sometimes the patients are left perplexed.

And yes, sometimes it happens in churches. I greatly admire some of our brilliant minds who are comfortably fluent with academic ecclesiastical jargon; I sometimes have no idea what they are saying. That is not good for any of us.

So many of the problems and challenges in our homes, churches, communities, and world could be diminished simply if we worked to clearly communicate with one another. We could reduce the tension and live happier lives, and I truly believe that is what God desires for us.
